TUESDAY APRIL 11 | 12 NOON

ROSE AUDITORIUM

41 COOPER SQUARE

Lucien Smith A'11

Lucien Smith (born 1989, Los Angeles, CA) is an American painter based in New York. In both 2013 and 2014, Smith was selected for Forbes 30 Under 30 list, among the brightest young entrepreneurs, innovators and game changers, in the industry category Art & Style. The New York Times has featured his work and named him an art-world wunderkind.

Smith is associated with other young painters, such as Oscar Murillo and Jacob Kassay, whose work has appreciated rapidly and is favored by collectors for investment-ready fare. A work from Smith's graduate exhibit at the Cooper Union in 2011 was resold in November 2013 for $389,000. In February 2014, his work Two Sides of the Same Coin was sold at auction for £224,500 by Sotheby's, London. He is represented by Moran Bondaroff in Los Angeles, CA.
