

Ashok Raiji, P.E., LEED AP

Position: Adjunct Professor

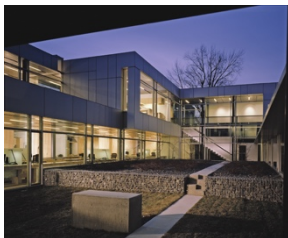

Courses Taught: Arch 134 – Environmental Technology I

Education: Bachelor of Science (Chemistry) – University of Bombay
Bachelor of Science (Mechanical Engineering) – Texas A&M University
Master of Science (Mechanical Engineering) – Texas A&M University

Professional Registration: Registered Professional Engineer in the States of AZ, CT, DC, DE, FL, GA, IL, IN, IO, KY, MA, MD, MI, MN, MO, MS, NH, NJ, NC, ND, NY, OH, PA, RI, SC, TN, TX, VA

LEED® Accredited Professional

Recent Honors and Awards: Award winning projects include

- Kresge Foundation Headquarters, Troy MI
 - Chicago Athenaeum Architecture Award
 - American Institute of Architects – Chicago Environmental Design Award, 2006
 - American Institute of Architects – Chicago Distinguished Building Award, 2006
 - American Institute of Architects – Chicago Interior Architecture Award, 2006
 - Commercial Real Estate Women – Detroit Impact Award for Redevelopment, 2007
- Columbia University Northwest Corner Building
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC NY) Engineering Excellence Diamond Award, 2012
 - Library Journal New Landmark Libraries Honorable Mention, 2012
 - Engineering News Record New York Best Project Award in Higher Education / Research, 2011
 - The Greater New York Construction User Council Outstanding Project Award, 2011
 - Society for College and University Planning (SCUP) /AIA Committee on Architecture for Education Merit Award, 2011
- Princeton University Frick Chemistry Laboratory
 - SCUP/AIA-CAE Excellence in Architecture for a New Building, Merit Award, 2012
 - R&D Magazine, Lab of the Year High Honors, 2012
 - Boston Society of Architects, Honor Award for Design Excellence, 2011
 - AIA/New Jersey, Merit Award, 2011
 - AIA Tri-State Design Awards, Honor Award, 2011
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC NY) Platinum Award for Engineering Excellence Building/Technology Systems, 2012
 - Royal Institute of British Architects RIBA International Award
- Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts, Kansas City, MO
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC NY) Grand Conceptor Award 2013
 - American Council of Engineering Companies National Grand Conceptor Award 2013
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC NY) Platinum Award for Engineering Excellence Building/Technology Systems 2013
 - AISC IDEAS2 Awards - Presidential Award of Excellence in Architecture 2012

- Delta JFK Terminal, Jamaica, NY
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC NY) Engineering Excellence Diamond Award, 2013
 - American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) National Recognition Award

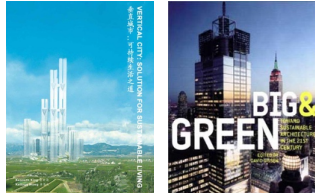

Ashok Raiji was the Engineer of Record for Building Services for all of the above projects.

Recent Research,
Scholarship, Creative
Activity:

Served as Technical Advisor for the National Building Museum's "Big and Green" exhibition.
Technical Advisor for the National Building Museum's "Green Communities" exhibition.

Recent Publications:

Stronger Non-profits, Stronger Communities: Kresge Foundation Headquarters, Arup Journal, Volume 1-2007.

Big and Green – Toward Sustainable Architecture in the 21st Century, Glossary of Terms Used in Sustainable Design.

Vertical City: A Solution for Sustainable Living

Current Academic,
Professional and
Public Service:
Professional
Memberships:

Board of Directors – American Institute of Architects New York Chapter

American Institute of Architects (AIA).

American Society of Heating Refrigerating and Air-conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE).

American Council of Engineering Companies.